DUNES

The Pulse

of Hammond High School

THE BOY . . . high school boys . . . T-shirts, crew haircuts, yellow cords, argyle socks, and 1929 Fords . . . yet . . . a ready grin for the pessimists and a determination to face the future bravely.

THE GIRL . . . high school girls . . . saddle shoes, sloppy joe sweaters, cherry cokes, and Glen Miller . . . yet . . . a smile for the fear in their hearts and a hope for the tomorrows.

THE TIME . . . it is yesterday's youth with its gaiety and pleasure, its happiness and charm, its plans and hopes and dreams for the future . . . The Time . . . it is today's youth with its determination and hope for a better world, its courageous smile to face the world undaunted.

THE PLACE . . . is Hammond High . . . with its ivy covered walls . . . it is the symbol of strength and courage to those whom it has sheltered and guided . . . a part of all of us as we carry it through the years wherever we go.

The GIRL

The Time

. . . is September and school doors open once again, hearts beating rapidly in apprehension of the year of growth and development to come. It is the homecoming day, the parade . . . basketball games . . . swimming and track meets . . . debate tournaments . . . It is "The Nervous Wreck," the "Pan Americana Revue," the "Spelling Bee," "The Torch-Bearers," and Association week. It is the Frontier party, the Christmas star dance, the May dance. It is fall, winter, spring . . . plaids and tweeds and white and cottons, it's skirts and sweaters and moccasins. It is exams, senior activities, National Honor Society, baccalaureate, and prom. All traditions . . . all going on forever.

And then . . . a blow, the repercussion . . . time goes on, changed but undaunted, quickened but still steady. It is defense stamps, five-inch headlines, knitting, tire shortages, sugar rationing, a changed American way of life . . . but the tempo of Hammond High beats the same steady rhythm as before . . . building wiser boys and girls, promoting faster but broader growth, ever stable . . . always steady . . . The pulse of Hammond High moves on to accomplish greater things in the world of today and tomorrow.

The Place

. . . is Hammond High School, its halls, lockers, and classrooms, its athletic field, its gyms, its pools, the cafeteria, the auditorium, library and laboratories. It is all these familiar places which we know so well. Working or playing, in classes or in activities; it is a part of every boy and girl. Each one carries away a memory of the PLACE when he sets out on graduation day. To the freshman it is awe inspiring . . . to the sophomore is is something he becomes better acquainted with . . . to the junior it is a place of activity and good times . . . to the senior, a place he'll never forget . . . a memory he can look back on forever . . . a symbol of life, effort and good times . . . it is his school, the pulse of student life.

Mr. A. L. Spohn, principal of Hammond High, and Mr. R. G. Rupp, assistant principal as they appeared at their birthday dinner.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY GIVEN CERTIFICATES OF MEMBERSHIP AT AUDITORIUM SESSION

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY . . . representing the scholastically best of the senior class . . . comprised of talent, industry, initiative, personality . . . workers in the school of the present, leaders of men and of women in the future . . . they carry the torch of learning as they set out to make the world what it should be.

Voted upon by the faculty of Hammond High, the National Honor Society is made up of the upper quarter of the senior class, outstanding in service, leadership, character, and scholarship.

An auditorium session held in the spring was the occasion at which all members received their certificates of membership. Because of the fact that the members of the society are the most active in school, the club is purely honorary and has few projects.

Officers this year were Lin Griffith, president; Jerry Matosec, vice-president; Joan Wright, secretary; and Nancy Miller, treasurer.

TOP TEN SCHOLASTIC STUDENTS HAD MANY ACTIVITIES

Naomi Livers, valedictorian, has worked in the library all during her high school years in preparation for such an occupation when she graduates.

Salutatorian Marguerite Juergens has been in the Ace of Clubs, Biology Club, German Club and Commercial Club.

Runner up, Dores Turner has the following activities: Ace of Clubs, secretary of Speech Arts Club, Discussion Club, Choral Club, president and treasurer of S.P.Q.R., a social representative, and senior editor of the Dunes.

Next, Doris Hildebrandt is finishing school in three years. Her activities include the Junior National Honor Society at Edison, orchestra, Pan-American League, Red Cross, and the Dunes staff.

Mary Alice Reed was a member of the Ace of Clubs, a monitor, a social representative, in Discussion Club, president of Speech Arts Club, secretary of the junior class, winner of the D.A.R. award for senior girls, and editor of the 1942 Dunes.

Edward Kotynski, sixth in his class was a monitor, treasurer of Speech Arts Club, and pianist in the 1941 All-School Revue.

Ranking seventh in the class of four hundred and fifty, Marilyn Shedd was in Ace of Clubs, G.A.C., and president of S.P.Q.R.

Adeline Swisher has been a social representative, monitor, in the senior band, orchestra, Girl Reserves, and German Club.

Rosemary Crist was in the Ace of Clubs, Discussion Club, Girls' Glee Club, Girl Reserves, secretary of the sophomore class, and business manager of the 1942 Dunes.

Joyce Lee Beckett coming from Morton school where she participated in dramatics and band has been in the Red Cross and the senior band while she attended Hammond High.

ACTIVITIES

THE ASSOCIATION REACHED FOR GREATER PARTICIPATION

The Association . . . the heart of the school, from whence the pulse begins . . . as it directs intramural sports, makes school laws, gives interests to many in the form of active participation in school government, represents the spirit of the organization . . . its functions pushed far beyond those of normal times because of the national emergency, stress the inner strength, the intensity of feeling of the school which means so much to all who are a part.

The Association, consisting of every member of H.H.S. from the lowly freshman to the suave senior, made the laws, both enjoyable and hard to understand and even harder to abide by, for our school life.

The main bodies of the association are the officers, the president's cabinet, the Senate, and the House of Representatives, and the court.

Thor Kolle, was president and head of the school government the last year. His assistant in the office of vice-president and speaker of the House was Tom Flynn. Kay Kimmel was recorder and kept a record of the business carried on in all meetings. Department heads made up the president's cabinet and advisory. They were Secretary of Social Activities, Jack McAnulty; Secretary of Public Safety, Donnie Zizoff; Secretary of Student Discipline, Spero Gregory; Secretary of Red Cross, Ed Peglow; and Secretary of Association Publicity, Jean Bacon.

Ten students, three seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and two freshmen, made up the Senate which acts much as the U. S. Senate. Miss Taylor was the sponsor.

Each advisory elected one of its members to represent it in the House. It works in the same manner as the Senate and in cooperation with it. Miss Scott acted as sponsor.

The court, made up of one member from each of the four classes, handled all school law violators.

Paper collections became a routine part of every Tuesday and Friday. Each student was requested to bring at least the papers from the day before to add to the ever growing pile of newspapers and magazines which were collected and sold to the junk man. The paper helped Uncle Sam in our war effort and the money went to the American Red Cross to help in its campaign against suffering in this world of conflict. Don Applegate and the Salvage Committee had charge of the paper drive.

A radio program telling of the activities of the Association and the part the war was playing in school life was given over WJOB.

An intra-mural basketball tournament was sponsored and supervised by the Association. It was won by Miss Reeder's advisory. Miss Cunningham's advisory was runner-up.

Since the Association is patterned after the national government, they were given the United States as their project in the Pan-American Revue. Ice cream and delicacies peculiar to the United States were sold.

Auditorium sessions were given at the beginning of each semester at which the officers were introduced and the functions of the Association were explained. Also, welcome cards, signed by the three officers, were given to each new member. They were personalized by having the student's name on his card.

The officers of the Association attended the state convention at Anderson, and after much talking, they were successful in having our candidate, Bob Lynch, elected in the capacity of State President of Indiana High School governments. Therefore, the state convention will be held at Hammond High next year.

COURT
Ogren, Gregory, Taylor.
Standing: Clyne, Livingston.

ASSOCIATION OFFICERS
Kimmell, recorder; Flynn, vice-president; Kolle, president.

SENATE
Seated: Longyel, Parke, Applegate, Bacon, Hathaway.
Standing: Lynch, Thon, Grady, Posner.

CABINET
Peglow, Bacon, Zieuff, McAnulty, Gregory.

Doing their part in extending democracy to the student body, the House of Representatives, modeled from our House in Washington, cooperated with the rest of the administration to make our school a better institution.

"Thy liberty is law . . ." In every government there are certain privileges granted to the citizens. When these freedoms are abused, not only the wrong doer, but all the governed suffer. Therefore, we have monitors to see that privileges are not abused, and to protect our liberties in law.

PAPER DRIVE WAS MANAGED BY HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House of Representatives had the responsibility of helping to make the school laws. A committee chosen from its members had charge of all the major elections during the year. At the beginning of each semester, they welcomed the new students and gave out printed handbooks explaining the school activities.

This year questionnaires were distributed to the student body to encourage participation in school activities. The House conducted the paper sales, the receipts of which went to the Red Cross. They also had charge of the advisory basketball tournament. At the All School Revue, the United States booth was sponsored by the House.

MONITORS ENFORCED REGULATIONS

The monitors, sponsored by Miss Burhans, had two main purposes in their work this year: to keep order in the halls, which consists of checking lockers and enforcing admit regulations, and to direct visitors in the building.

Those who are chosen to serve as monitors must be not only dependable and reliable but must also have a strong sense of justice toward fellow students.

The social event of the year was a party given in December.

The monitors' greatest task is signing admits. If admits are found to be illegal, court notices are issued, after which the violator is subjected to the rule of the court.

To keep civilian life safe and sound, a present problem of our nation, traffic safety is being stressed by the Automobile Club by exerting its utmost ability to give the students of H.H.S. a clear understanding of safety. With support, it will soon climb above its present high standard.

♦

Stressing American ideals, aims, and activities, the Arts and Crafts Club through hours of persistent workmanship produced cartoons, wood carvings, and drawings of American life.

♦

The German Club furthered American ideals by stressing the fact that, although our country is no longer on friendly terms with Germany, the beauty of its language and customs is not lost.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB ENTERTAINED CAPTAIN BARRY AND HIS "SAFETY" TRAILER

Under the supervision of the sponsor, Mr. Thorsen, and with Ralph Smith as president, the Automobile Club organized very interesting programs throughout the year. A special program committee helped in presenting these programs.

The purpose of this organization is to help junior and senior boys and girls who are interested in the problems of traffic to become sensible, conscientious, and safe drivers.

Membership requirements are the possession of a driver's license for boys, while girls must have a sincere interest in traffic safety.

Some of their speakers at meetings were the chief of police, judge of the traffic court, and others directly associated with the problems of highway traffic.

The main projects of the Automobile Club were the sponsoring of an auditorium session at which Officer Norheck spoke and the sponsoring of the Hammond High publicity of Captain Barry's safety trailer which was open to all students. Captain Barry also spoke on "Traffic Accidents" at the auditorium session. The club also promoted safety projects in cooperation with civic bodies.

Fred Rovai assisted Smith by filling the position of vice-president, while Harriet Howard was secretary, and Phyllis Whitaker acted as treasurer.

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB VISITED CHICAGO ART SCHOOLS

The Arts and Crafts Club has a three-fold purpose. First, giving service to school and civic enterprises through the making of posters; second, furthering knowledge and appreciation of art by actual contact with artists, sculptors, and craftsmen; and third, finding recreation for themselves in parties and field trips.

This year the club was very active in school activities, making stage settings for plays, creating units of work used on Miss Schubkegel's exhibit at the National Art convention, and taking interesting trips.

On December thirteenth the members enjoyed a Christmas treat during which they visited four art schools, the Armour School of Technology; School of Design; Academy of Fine Arts; and the Art Institute. They also visited the Roullier Galleries and Marshall Field's.

A trip to the Dunes and a visit with Frank Dudley, the famous dunes artist is another trip which the club enjoyed.

Officers for the year were Peggy Erickson and Charles Weesner, presidents; Mary Dorsey and Dick Hart, vice-presidents; Juanita Keith and Peggy Erickson, secretaries; and Monica Piechowski, reporter.

GERMAN CLUB CONDUCTED ALASKAN EXHIBIT AT REVUE

The German Club had as its officers this year, Rudy Fehlberg and Siegfried Manowski for president; Bob Harder and Bob Abbott for vice-president; Jack Griffith and Rosemarie Kristoff for secretary; Marie Herbst and Bob Tanke for treasurer. The club sponsor is Miss Schuelke.

At club meetings, German games were played and German songs were sung. This same idea was carried out in the Christmas party, at which each member had to perform a stunt in German to receive a present. Another party was the initiation supper at which the new members had to wash the dishes. German folk dancing was the main entertainment of the evening.

Alaska was the club project at the All School Revue.

The group also participated in a quiz program against the French Club, the French Club winning.

♦

The Commercial Club . . . stressing efficiency and accuracy . . . seeking new experiences in the business world, found, through advice from others and practice among themselves, how to fit into the machine of life.

BUSINESS MEN GAVE ADVICE TO COMMERCIAL CLUB

As an aid to their future business careers the students in the Commercial Club had many interesting programs during the year.

One of the first of these was the showing of "On to Jupiter," a moving picture. On November fourth, Mr. O'Brien, a Hammond lawyer, gave a few good pointers on his profession.

Banking was discussed by Mr. Thompkins of the Mercantile Bank in January.

Officers for the year were Maurice Iddings, president; Dick Dieterick, vice-president; Kathleen Ottarson and Marian Olson, secretaries; and Frances Bodenhofer, treasurer.

BOHEMIAN CLUB GIVES UP "CRESSET" FOR DURATION

The Bohemian Club encourages interest and ability in creative writing. It is made up of those students who can pass the test in writing ability, and who are recommended by their English teacher.

During meetings, contributions were read and discussed among the members who offered criticism to their fellow students.

Because of the paper shortage the "Cresset," the Bohemian club's annual magazine, was not published. Instead, the young journalists, poets, and authors wrote a Cresset page in the Herald once a month.

This year the club had two informal initiations and one candle light service.

Brazil was the theme of the booth which the Bohemian Club sponsored in the All School Revue.

Officers for the year were Larry Nichols, president; Shirley Lee Johnson, vice-president; Dolores Giesecke, secretary; Orie McCay, treasurer. Miss Kennedy was faculty sponsor.

FRENCH CLUB READ ABOUT LIFE IN FRANCE

The French Club had the distinction this year of having a real French boy, Maurice Lefevbre, to act as its president. The second semester Nan Miller was president; Jack Taylor and Norman Beyer were vice-presidents; Anna Palmateer and Willamae Vaux were treasurers; and Barbara Singleton was secretary for both terms.

The pupose of the club was to offer a chance for French students to practice speaking the language which they were studying. They carried out this aim by speaking French at all possible times and by playing games in French. They also furthered their knewledge of France by taking turns reading on some phase of French life and reporting on it at meetings.

Madame Graham, mother of Maurice Lefevbre, having recently returned from her home land, was a very interesting hostess when she invited the club over for tea and games. She talked to them in French and told them about her life in France.

A play was put on by some of the members during a meeting at which all spoke French.

Because Canada is mostly French in its population, that country was chosen as the project for the club in the All-School Revue. Posters showing Canadian scenes and sports were exhibited.

The French Club girls competed against the German Club boys and were victorious in a Quiz program.

SOCIAL REPRESENTATIVES PRESENTED ALL ROUND PROGRAM OF ACTIVITIES

The social committee, trying to provide opportunities for maintaining normal living conditions, sponsored a Kiddie Party, the Christmas Dance, and a Frontier Party; the dancing class and the "Wildcat Whirl" were both rollicking successes.

"Don your rompers and get a lollipop" was the theme of one of the first parties given by the social committee. Following the Kiddie Party were the Christmas Dance, at which the holiday spirited couples danced to Don Lang's music around a beautiful tree, adorned with Yuletide packages, and the Frontier Party where a movie of Orrin Tucker's orchestra and a Popeye cartoon were shown. Ballroom dancing was featured as well as square dancing, under the direction of Miss Schwiebert, of Northwestern University. Another success was the "Wildcat Whirl," given in March, honoring the sport teams. "The Spring Fever" dance was the last activity of the year.

Under the leadership of Miss Strange and Jack McAnulty, secretary of student activities, the social organization, made up of one member from each advisory, strove to extend recreational activities and to improve the school spirit. One of their outstanding projects was the course in dancing with Miss Dhyle McMillan, teacher.

HI-Y SPONSORED BROTHERHOOD WEEK

"To create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character in school and community . . ." is the purpose of the Hi-Y. This organization is a nation-wide club and the state of Indiana had as its president Wade Adams of Hammond High. The H.H.S. chapter was led by Jerry Matosec. The Hi-Y platform consists of Clean Sportsmanship, Clean Scholarship, Clean Speech, and Clean Living.

This year the Hi-Y sponsored Brotherhood Week and during the week an auditorium session was held which featured a round table discussion on religion. Msgr. Mungovan, representing the Catholic faith, Rev. McCracken, the Protestant faith, and Rabbi Feinberg, the Jewish.

In April the club sponsored for the third year another song session with song leader George Campbell of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Hi-Y gave programs for two P.T.A. meetings. They also bought two $25 defense bonds with beneficiaries being the Hi-Y Club of 1952. The Hi-Y sponsored a booth in the Sportsman's Show at the Civic Center and had another one in the Pan Americana Revue. Those helping president Jerry Matosec during the year were the following officers: Paul Stutsman, vice-president; Bob Hitt, secretary; and Wade Adams, treasurer.

C. M. Seddelmeyer is the faculty sponsor.

JUNIOR RED CROSS PREPARED FOR EMERGENCIES

Every student of Hammond High is considered a member of the Junior Red Cross. The Council consists of one member from each advisory. The main purpose of this group is to improve the welfare and the health of the students and to assist in welfare work in the community.

Due to the present emergency, the Junior chapter of H.H.S. cooperated with the Senior Red Cross in forming a Disaster committee, which was trained to act in case of flood, air raid, fire, etc. This committee, headed by Edgar Peglow, was made up of four sub-committees — First Aid, Food, Clothing, and Transportation.

The Red Cross Council, in collaboration with the Senior Red Cross, sponsored a button drive and held a big membership drive this year.

The group is sponsored by Miss Zella Von Gremp. Edgar Peglow, secretary of the Junior Red Cross, was in charge of all activities of the chapter.

This year the officers were Bud Timm, president; Peter Murphy, vice-president; Dot Worland, secretary; Dorothy Lichtsinn, treasurer.

LIBRARY STAFF WORKED FOR INCREASED CIRCULATION

Keeping students well informed, aggressive, interested...helping, advising . . . offering material for any literary venture . . . the library staff . . . cheerful, friendly, helpful, does its part in the life of the school.

A desk helper and a room worker are on duty each period to assist in library work. The desk helpers charge out material, check in returned material, keep ciculation, and reserve material. The room workers help people with the card catalog, reader's guide, shelves, and put material away. Often extra helpers are needed.

There are thirty-three study hall librarians who come to the library to get reference material for requests handed them by members of their study hall. This relieves the overcrowded condition in the library.

Material is made available for library lessons which are given through the English classes.

Donations of magazines came from various sources, such as the P.T.A., Chamber of Commerce, Science Department, Commercial Department, school clubs, and from individuals.

Miss Hawver is the librarian, assisted by Miss Exley, and Anne Kolak, typist.

SPEECH ARTS CLUB PROMOTED INTEREST IN ALL SPEECH ACTIVITIES

To foster and promote interest in speech activities both in the school and in the community is the primary purpose of the Speech Arts Club. To become a member, one must have a sincere interest in one of the speech activities: debate extemporaneous speaking, dramatics, humorous, or oratorical declamation, or original oratory.

The members donned colorful sombreros and, in a typical setting, served chilean foods as their contribution toward the success of the All School Revue.

This year's officers were Phyllis Cole and Jim Jones, presidents; Kay Green and Phyllis Cole, vice-presidents; Ed Kotynski and Bob Hays, treasurers; and Anna Mae Hess, secretary. Mr. T. D. Reed is the faculty sponsor.

INDIVIDUAL SPEAKERS AND DEBATERS ESTABLISHED FINE RECORD

The debate team and individual contestants had a record to be proud of in the season's competition. The debaters, Leonard Schroeter, Lin Griffith, L. Marvin Ford, and Dolores Giesecke won the Wiley, Terr Haute, tourney for the second consecutive year. They also competed in meets at Clark, Thornton Fractional, La Porte, and Elkhart. The squad traveled to Wisconsin and met several different teams there. They also placed second in the state National Forensic League tournament.

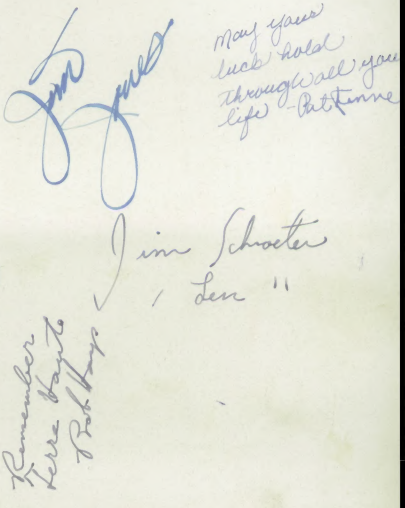

Those in solo events have enviable records too. Besides their achievements at the state meet, they won first at the invitational contest at Clark.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE WAS AGAIN LARGEST IN STATE

Hammond High's chapter of the National Forensic League, an honorary speech organization, is again the largest in the state. Under the coaching of Mr. T. D. Reed, Hammond High won the sweepstakes award at the annual state N. F. L. tournament. The state meet was held this year at Indiana State Teacher's College, Terre Haute, Indiana. Individual state placers from Hammond were Leonard Schroeter, first in original oratory; Anna Mae Hess, second in humorous declamation; Pat Kennell, third in dramatic declamation; and Ruth Kaun, second in poetry reading . . . a comparatively new contest.

Leonard Schroeter was the chapter president and represented the chapter at the national congress in Madison, Wisconsin. Leonard ranks first in the national congress with 657 N.F.L. points, obtained through his participation in various speech activities.

Due to the war conditions, there was no national tournament held this year.

Y.W.C.A. SECRETARY SPOKE TO SENIOR GIRL RESERVES

The two Girl Reserve groups are very closely linked together which makes it difficult to write about them individually. When a girl first joins Girl Reserves she is placed in the junior group for one semester. There she learns the principles and purposes of the organization. The second semester she is automatically a member of the Senior Girl Reserves. The meetings of the two groups are separate but most activities are enjoyed together.

This year the senior girls discussed how to improve their personal appearance and their clothes, in several meetings.

Miss Howey of the Y.W.C.A. gave a talk about the founding of the Girl Reserves and its relationship with the Y.W.C.A.

As an initiation party for the Junior Reserves they gave a pot-luck supper in December.

Although the club has its blue triangle pin, the girls also decided to have sweaters with letters a little smaller than those of the athletes.

Argentina was the booth that they sponsored in the All School Revue.

They accompanied the junior girls on their trip to interesting places in Chicago.

Officers who were advised by Miss Alderton were, for the first semester, Ardis Skamfor, president; Alta Thon, vice-president; Ruth Rose, secretary; Ruth Flanders, treasurer. For the second semester Ardis Skamfor, president; Doris Tokash, vice-pres.; Ruth Flanders, secretary; Eleanor Minas, treasurer.

JUNIOR GIRL RESERVES STRESSED GROOMING, PERSONAL APPEARANCE

The Junior Girl Reserves, a reserve force of the Y.W.C.A. were led by president Margaret Oman; vice-president Jane Randolph; secretary Betty Medvid; and treasurer Betty Jones.

The purpose of the club "to find and give the best," was carried out in their program which dealt with good grooming and a pleasing personality.

The girls, under the sponsorship of Miss Bollenbach made a Saturday trip to Chicago and visited Maxwell Street, Hull House, and the Stevens Hotel. Among their activities were a pot luck supper, a candlelight service at George Rogers Clark, and carolling at Christmas time. They also attended the Y.W.C.A. camp at Lake Wawasee, Indiana.

Physical fitness, a must in peace time, but a necessity in time of war . . . brought about by organizations such as G.A.C. Building, perfecting, raising morale, the girls are preparing to meet the spirit of the times with healthy bodies and clear minds.

♦

Besides honoring a great American by sponsoring the Benjamin Franklin Banquet, the club heard a speaker, saw movies of South America, and made tours of a printing company and a radio station in Chicago.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC CLUB STRESSED PHYSICAL FITNESS TO MEET THE TIMES

The G.A.C., which is sponsored by Miss Anderson and Miss Dietrich, was headed this year by Grace Randazzo as president; Donnie Zizoff as vice-president; Lois Scheffel as secretary; and Eleanor Bauer as treasurer. Lila Naugle was in charge of the sports.

During this year the club had many activities which included a Halowe'en party and a Christmas party. The girls were also hostesses to the city-wide annual Play Day. There were five girls from each of the following high schools and junior high schools, in Hammond: Tech, Clark High, Edison, Morton, and Irving. The G. A. C. also sponsored many Morton, and Irving. The G.A.C. also sponsored many tournaments including speedball, archery, volleyball, swimming, baseball, and ping-pong.

The purpose of this club is to provide healthful activities for the girls to give them a chance to develop sportsmanship.

PRESS CLUB VISITED DONNELLY PRINTERS

The boys of the Press Club each year are extremely proud of their extensive schedule, which this year included a visit to the studios of WENR in Chicago, and a tour through Donnelley Company, printers of Life, Esquire, and various catalogues. Two outstanding events were enjoyed by the group: Miss Robison showed the movies of her trip in South America, and the club heard a talk by Charles E. Embre on Java, the Philippines, and Australia.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Howe, the club sponsored the annual Benjamin Franklin Banquet, which was held in the school cafeteria.

This active group, of which Eugene Foster was president; Wally Sasewich, vice-president; Kenneth Jackson, secretary; and Charles Lawry and John Fisher, treasurers, represented Panama in the All School Revue.

The Clothing Club did its part for the national emergency and were made to feel a part of the struggle in which we are all engaged by making clothes for the American Red Cross.

AERONAUTICS CLUB STYLED MODELS FOR THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

By promoting and improving model building through the sponsorship of competitive contests, the Aeronautics Club accomplished its purpose.

Hammond High's air minded students have taken their first step toward helping to win this war by building scale models for the United States government.

During club meetings the members were shown movies in which they saw aviation principles and ideas in practical use. One of the most outstanding of this series dealt with the subject of naval aviation.

Martin Hiedtman and Chuck Heim were presidents; Jack Scott and J. K. Stinson were vice-presidents; Elizabeth Mattingly and Darrel Cheek were secretaries; and Mary Korba and John Vasiliades were treasurers. Mr. Garett sponsored the club.

CLOTHING CLUB HELPED RED CROSS

Under the supervision of Miss Thiel, the Clothing Club played its part in the defense program by making garments for the Red Cross. Costumes for the gay festivities of the Pan Americana Revue were also made by the Clothing Club.

During the course of the year the club had two initiation parties in which it welcomed new girls into its group.

Officers for the year were Yvonne Long, president; Florence Gresham, secretary; and Alyce Lightcap, treasurer.

It has been said that there is only one class distinction above any other in our democratic country. This is the aristocracy of learning. In belonging to the Ace of Clubs, each student has taken the first step toward entering this aristocracy.

By caring for the plants throughout the building, the Biology Club made the high school more beautiful, more enjoyable, and lightened the hearts of those who worked here from day to day.

ACE OF CLUBS COMPOSED OF B AVERAGE SCHOLARS

The Ace of Clubs, for which the entrance requirement is a high scholastic standing, is the only club to which freshman can belong. Miss Pritchard is the faculty sponsor. The officers for the year were Bonnie Clark and Julia Kohut, president; Carolyn Taylor and Marilyn Cole, vice-president; Eleanor Hendricks and Connie Webster, secretary; Junior Parks and Pat Gavit, treasurer.

The purpose of the club, as written in the constitution is "to help each other maintain a high standard and to develop a responsibility for future club membership."

The main event of the year was the initiation party, held in November. The members also enjoyed a trip to the Museum of Science and Industry in Jackson Park, Chicago.

BIOLOGY CLUB SPONSORED AUDITORIUM SESSION

The main purpose of the Biology Club is to take care of the plants in 116, the cafeteria, and on the stairs. The club members also see that they are taken care of in the summer and repotted in the fall. Their great interest in flowers took them to see the annual Flower Show which was held this year at the Amphitheater. Mr. Rupp showed the organization colored films on flowers.

Animals also play a great part in the interest of the club. Sidney Lanier brought his pet raccoon to school and gave a talk on the ways and habits of this interesting animal.

The club took hikes in the early spring to observe the return of the birds.

An auditorium session was sponsored by the Biology Club dealing with the activity of snakes. The talk and demonstrations proved to be both educational and entertaining.

For the Pan Americana Revue the club had an interesting display of South American products.

The club gave the library several hooks.

The only party of the year was the initiation party.

The officers were presidents Max Fischer and James Ehrsam; vice-president Andy Granack; secretaries Mona Ruwaldt and Betty Garher; treasurers Ollie Cyrus and Marceil Stump. Miss Reeder is sponsor.

THE PULSE BEATS IN 1942 DUNES

The staff, headed by Mary Alice Reed, presented two auditorium sessions. "A Slide View of the Dunes Through the Years," contrasted the 1902 Dunes with the annuals of the past years; the other, a comedy "The Spelling Bee," in which a spell down was included.

The Dunes staff sponsored two outstanding auditorium sessions during the past year, one in which it presented "A Slide View of the Dunes Through the Years," picturing the life of Hammond High from 1902 to 1942. The second was an old fashioned spelling bee, in which students who received ninety-five percent or more in an all-school spelling test, participated. The winners, Betty Turnquist, Jean Gumula, Jean Kohl, Margaret DeVries, Amber Ludwig, and Mary Alice Reed, were presented with gold, silver, and bronze medals, given by the Webster Dictionary Company. The skit preceding the spelldown was written by Blanche Sax and Shirley Lee Johnson.

Mr. C. L. Scherer, financial advisor of the Dunes; Miss McGranahan, editorial advisor.

Rosemary Crist was the business manager, assisted by Carolyn Rea, bookkeeper; Blanche Sax, subscription manager. Others on the business staff were Ernie Postlewaite, Jim Cieplucha, Betty Garber, Kermit Clyne, Lois Scheffel, Katherine Kuehle, and Paul Dietrich. Mr. Scherer was the business advisor.

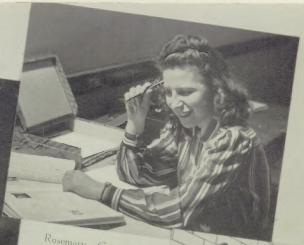

The Dunes staff acknowledges Miss Ellen McGranahan, editorial advisor; Mr. C. L. Scherer; Mr. O. W. Bodie, Dunes photographer; Miss Oza Cunningham, for her work on the "Spelling Bee" and the students who participated; Mr. Sam Postlewaite and the Hammond Times for the use of the mats in the advertising section; the Service Engraving Company of Detroit, Michigan, who produced the engravings for the Dunes.

The 1942 annual was printed by the DeLaney printing company of Hammond.

The covers were made by S. K. Smith Company of Chicago.

HERALD STAFF OFFERED DEFENSE STAMPS FOR SUBSCRIBERS

These are the people who will determine our policies tomorrow, the ones who will decipher, explain, define our information . . . learning the principles of a good journalist, working together, working hard, and showing the happenings of the world.

As a climax to their successful campaign in the fall, in which the staff sold more subscriptions than had ever been sold before, the Herald presented their annual dance. This year the theme was an Indian pow-wow, bringing out the idea of Indian Summer. The second semester campaign was stimulated by offering a defense stamp to all those people who subscribed during the first two weeks. This year there were 12 — 100% advisories.

A contest was sponsored by the Herald in collaboration with the Calumet theater in order to get a name plate for the theater. Bob Hays was the lucky winner with his title, "The Calumet Family Theater." Yvonne Long received second prize.

The cub staffs, chosen from Mr. Bolt's journalism classes, put out one issue each semester. Dolores Geisecke edited the fall cub issue, helped by Larry Nichols, managering editor; Sally Hathaway, news editor; Grace Dennis, publicity editor; Helen Fites and Colleen Von Borstel were in charge of circulation and John Woodrow was sports editor.

Those chosen for the second cub issue were Kay Greene, editor; Joyce Beckett, managing editor; Orie McCay, feature editor; Don Miller and Don Pope, sports editors; Ardis Skamfor, girls' sports; Jean Matthews, business manager; Margery Johnson and Jean Johns, associate editors; Bob Black, Phyllis Durgy, Mildred Mullholland, Annalee Erdenbaugh, Maxine Harbison, Nellie Bailey, Barbara Stalcup, Phyllis Tucker, Albert Ramthun, Florence Barbould, Geraldine Pattee, Charlotte Kingston, Juanita Kieth.

Besides the cub issues the staff printed several special editions. The Christmas issue reported the programs taking place at the junior high schools all over the city. Easter fashions and reports on the bunny's progress came out in the Easter edition. The April Fool's Day issue, however, was the brain child of the staff and was enjoyed by all. The last issue of the year was written entirely by seniors on the staff, before their graduation. From May until then, however, all juniors who were to be considered for next year's positions were given a chance to work and show what they could do.

Those members of the Herald who achieved a place in the Quill and Scroll, honorary society for journalists, were Amber Ludwig, Damery Durgy, Shirley Johnson, Leonard Schroeter, George Hoffman, Jean Peterson, Larry Nichols, Bob Bernstein, and Lin Griffith.

Because of the ruling prohibiting inter-state competition, representatives were not able to attend the Medill Conference at Northwestern but, instead a group journeyed to Butler at Indianapolis to compete. Those who went were Jean Peterson, Amber Ludwig, Marilyn Wulf, Damery Durgy, Larry Nichols, Dolores Giesecke, and Sally Hathaway. They entered sports writing, news writing, and copy reading.

Plans for the spring included a pot-luck banquet for all Quill and Scroll members and a beach party in late May.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB ENTERTAINED LUNCHEON CLUBS

The members of the Boys' Glee Club are chosen by a voice test. The organization sang before the Kiwanis and the Rotary Clubs, public meetings, P.T.A. meetings, at patriotic rallies, and our own auditorium sessions. In collaboration with the other music groups, they sang at the concerts and for radio programs.

With Miss Alyce Cain as director; Mac McClay as president; High Smith, treasurer; Charles Hess, secretary; and Warren Buck, librarian, this organization attempted to keep up the morale and the public spirit, which can best be done with music.

CHORAL CLUB HELPED ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

One of the most active clubs in school, this organization is the goal of all aspiring young singers. The members are auditioned, and then selected by Miss Alyce Cain, director. The Choral group appears in purple robes. The club is kept busy with invitations to sing for all types of civic affairs, with periodic auditorium sessions, with their annual Christmas service, and with numerous appearances at a local radio station. They also take a prominent part in concerts presented by the school, and each year they sing in the city-wide music festival.

The Choral Club is not without its own social activities, however, for the three vocal organizations of Hammond High have an annual get-together where they not only sing but also do a little eating and dancing on the side.

The officers were Helen Barnes, president; Lois Vandevort, secretary; Mary Jeanne Tolles, treasurer; Murle Rench, librarian; and Kay Kimmell, accompanist.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB TOOK PART IN CIVIC PROGRAMS

This group of girls' voices has made various appearances at churches, clubs, banquets and other civic affairs; has been featured in several auditorium sessions this year; has taken part in concerts presented at the high school, and took a part in the annual city-wide music festival. It has also sung on various radio programs.

In past years, it has given, in cooperation with the two other vocal organizations, an annual operetta. This year, such plans were abandoned for it was decided that the money involved might be put to better use during the present national crisis.

To be eligible for this club each girl must be an upperclassman and should have had some training in sight reading. Its object is to give girls a fuller appreciation of fine music and to increase their singing ability.

The club always appears in white robes and is under the direction of Miss Alyce Cain.

The officers of the Girls' Glee Club are president, June Powell; treasurer, Esther Ward; secretary, Lorraine Kooy; and librarian, Mildred House. Betty Smith served as accompanist.

SENIOR BAND

The senior band has as its director Mr. Dierks, whose assistants are Mr. Nichols and Mr. Gekeler. The purpose of the band is to broaden the students' cultural and practical knowledge of music.

During the year, the band performed at six football and seven basketball games. At most of the auditorium sessions, the band lent its color to the program.

One of the main events of the year was a concert given on March sixth, in collaboration with the other musical groups. Another concert was given May 22. The band and selected groups from the band played at various other functions including a P.T.A. meeting and the Defense Bond Rally.

Under the direction of Mr. Nichols, the members of the junior band, by learning to play in an organization, are trained to fill positions in the senior band.

This year the junior band entertained the Portsmouth band by giving the visitors a dinner and helping to house them overnight. Other activities were playing in two band concerts, one in March and one in May, and providing the music for one of the auditorium sessions during the year. There were many who took part in the city solo contest in May.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra and special ensemble groups, under the direction of Mr. Dierks and Mr. Gekeler, played for the P.T.A., radio programs, church organizations, and in the annual concert.

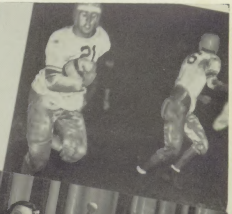

Tryouts were held every two weeks for chairs in which an improvement in work merited a promotion. This plan served to act as a stimulant to keep the students doing their very best.

The members of the junior orchestra had their own recital each month. Individuals played in turn and lectures were given on composers' lives. The musicians demonstrated the composer's style.

Bob Lynch, Corinne Dibblee, and Dick Hart won their letters for cheerleading.

INDIVIDUALS SHOWED TEAM SPIRIT

SCOTT — junior end who could pluck almost any pass out of the air. Captain elect for '42-'43.

STEFKO — junior end through whose position very few plays were run by the opposing teams.

PRYMUSKI — senior tackle whose stellar line play was an outstanding factor in every game.

ADAMS — junior guard whose thrusts through the enemy line made him a consistent menace to oppenents.

WINKLEY — senior guard whose "iron man" tactics made him tough to beat.

GEORGAS — senior guard who found true glory when he blocked a try for extra point in the Roosevelt game.

CILLIS — senior guard whose low charging made him a fifth man in opposing backfields.

WILLS — senior center whose fighting spirit and reckless courage made him a true "Wildcat."

KARHOHS — senior halfback who scored many important points. Fritz was second in scoring this year.

MAMALA — the "Slithering Serb," he was known as to his mates. He ran like a scared jackrabbit.

LUKOSHUS — senior fullback who could throw a pass with uncanny accuracy even when the chips were down.

HALLE — a junior halfback who consistently kicks the ball about 50 yards. This is a great asset to any team.

COOPER — junior fullback whose power should make him hard to stop next year.

KRUEGER — junior halfback who can pick them up and lay them down with the best of the team.

GRIDDERS WON EIGHT, LOST ONE

On September 12, the football team started the 1941 season happily by trampling Thornton of Harvey 30-0. To the tune of Wildcat fans shouting themselves hoarse, Horace Mamala, new senior varsity man, hippity-hopped around everyone the length of the field to score twice. Fred Rovai, the invincible, ploughed through to score three times.

Chief criticism of the Cats was their disorganized appearance and their lack of pass defense. Despite the lack of team unity, Hammondites felt the season well opened.

The bright evening of September 16, was dulled a little by the victory of the Emerson "Tornadoes" over the Cats. Score: 20-12. The Purple still seemed to need team integrity and improved pass defense.

Captained by Jerry Matosec, Hammond again discharged its traditional annual duty of thrashing the Roosevelt Rough Riders. Jack Georgas, senior guard, blocked the conversion kick of the Roosevelt star, Teddy Zych, thereby preventing the point which would have made a tie out of a close 7-6 victory.

After two weeks' tough drill on batting down passes, Coach Huffine loosed the Cats on the Washington congregation. A perfect pass sailed from Lukoshus to Art Mattox, who tallied after a 40 yard sprint along the side lines. The revamped defense against an aerial barrage did its duty against the sharp-eyed Washington pigskin tossers. Finally Fred Karhohs drove like a tractor through the broken Senator lines to score the second time for Hammond. Final score was 13-0.

On October 14 Hammond High played its city rival, George Rogers Clark, to gain an easy victory with a score of 13-7.

The Whiting Oilers had no sludge in their crank cases the night of October 25, even though Hammond nosed them out 8-7. A safety in the first quarter gave the Wildcats a two point edge. Whiting scored and converted in the third quarter to change the score to 7-2 in their favor. Mamala caught a short pass and veered across the line, the kick missing, to make the game the hardest earned victory at 8-7.

Old "Jup" Pluvius contributed his own part of the show the evening of October 30, Homecoming night. Portsmouth checked out with a loss of 10 points. Score: 19-9.

Two weeks later, the cats confidently beat Hammond Tech, 25-12. However, Tech's lack of weight was not matched by a lack of spirit, and Hammond was kept busy throughout the game.

The morning of November 20 saw the Cats hoarding a south-bound train. Novemher 22 saw them on the same foothall field with the Sidney Lanier team. Hammond's superiority was immediately evident. Lukoshus' passing coupled with Matosec's snatching made long gains. Fred Karhohs, hero of the battle scored twice. Final score: 26-14.

The Lanier game finished the season. Under the coaching of Karl Huffine, Hammond came through with an eminently successful team. Eight wins out of nine games was the final tally.

KESSLERITES END SEASON WITH 11-8 RECORD

This year's hardwood campaign got off to a rousing start when the Wildcats downed Emerson's Tornadoes by a 25-23 count. Gage canned the clincher in the last minute. Showing good form the team then defeated Washington, Fort Wayne (North), and Valparaiso by respective scores of 44-28, 25-23, and 41-22. In their next game the "Cats" met the undefeated "Tigers" from Tech. Having led throughout three full quarters, they finally fell after a scorching Tech rally 24-16. Somewhat disheartened by this loss, the Purple won only one of their next five engagements. They were upset 35-28 by an up and coming team from Clark but bounced right back to nip powerful Froeble 41-35. The fireworks started after the Froeble contest. South Bend Central, Roosevelt, and Fort Wayne Central all won over the hapless Wildcats. The respective scores were 30-25, 35-33, 46-19. There was some consolation, however, in the fact that these were three of the outstanding teams in the state. Especially brilliant in these defeats was "Curly" Piatek who registered 22 points. The Cats once again found the victory road and downed Tolleston in a 39-37 thriller. Washington and Valpo followed 33-29 and 48-22 to bring the Purple's won and lost record to 8 and 5. Hammond lost their bed for revenge against Tech when they again yielded to their city rivals 29-21. Compensating for their poor showing against Tech, the boys then walloped Muncie Central 50-25 and followed with victories over Whiting 40-34 and Lew Wallace 39-32. Traveling to Gary's Memorial Gym to engage high rated Horace Mann, the Purple played one of their most inspired games of the season before being edged out 46-40. Clark, fighting for a share in the city title championship, then closed Hammond High's regular season by defeating them 32-28.

This loss gave the Purple a won and lost total of 11 and 8 for a percentage of .579. This is a very commendable record when you consider the caliber of the opposition. In compiling this record the Cats ammassed a total of 635 points against their opponents' 597.

Hammond High had the luckiest draw in the East Chicago sectional. Having drawn a bye in their first round, the Cats downed Hobart 47-33 in their quarter final game only to lose to the potential champ, Roosevelt, 40-37 in their semi-final encounter.

The bright light for Wildcat rooters is the fact that six of the tournament ten are returning next year.

TEAM FEATURED COLLECTIVE SIZE AND SPEED

GAGE — hard driving senior who could be counted on to drop in a crucial point when necessary.

STUART — Bob's coolness under fire made him a great floor captain.

PIATEK — in his first year, Joe was second high scorer with a total of 100 points. He could always be counted upon in the pinches.

KOHL — great in spirit and always playing hard in any game.

RIEBE — high scoring ace who amassed a total of 114 points to lead all scorers.

STEFKO — rugged forward who was a consistent menace to all opposing teams. He is a natural on the hardwood.

KUCER — a big boy who is uncomparable as a defensive rebound man. Watch him next year!

PRYMUSKI — came to the fore later in the season and made himself known as a true fighting "Wildcat."

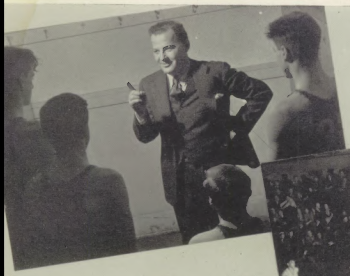

BINDAS — rugged junior with an uncanny eye for the hoop. He will be tough next year.

BANDURA — junior with determination and drive. Should break into varsity line-up as a senior.

TRACK SQUAD WON SECOND IN STATE

This year's track men, under the guidance of Coach "Whity" Wonsowitz carried Hammond's colors in a manner which was typical of great Hammond teams in the past. Starting the year, the boys travelled to Fort Wayne to engage the '41 state champion North Side team. Hammond showed fine possibilities in the meet although they lost 59-39. Eager for a victory, the harriers then engaged Hammond Tech, Lew Wallace, and Emerson of Gary. The boys ran away with the show as they piled up 81 points. South Bend Central then succumbed 64-34. The first big test for the harriers came in the Gary State Indoor Meet. The team again placed second to the well balanced aggregation from North Side but made a fine showing in beating 13 other teams entered in the field. Outstanding in this meet was Boldt who finished first in both the 880 and the mile run. In the next meet the Cats copped the city championship with firsts in eleven of thirteen events, against Tech and Clark.

Only outstanding feature of the Tolleston meet was Mamala's 10 flat 100 yard dash. In the next meet Froebel beat the harriers when they nosed out the 880 relay team in a photo finish. Three days later, however, Hammond proved its superiority over Froebel by coasting to victory in the Roosevelt relays. The 880 team gained sweet revenge when it beat Froebel's fast team. The following meet with Emerson proved uneventful as the boys chalked up an 80-31 score.

In the Western Conference Qualifications, a meet which is practically the same as the Roosevelt Relays, Hammond was closely pressed but still qualified 14 men for the N.I.H.S.C. finals. As was expected Hammond again finished second to North Side for the Northern Indiana Championship.

In the East Chicago sectional, the Wildcats romped to victory, scoring a total of 73¼ points.

The Purple qualified both relay teams and eleven individual positions for the state finals.

Mamala won the 100 and the 220; Prymuski threw the shot 51.5 feet; and Eddie Pelc ran a 51.5 — 440.

CROSS COUNTRY

In the words of Coach "Whity" Wonsowitz himself, "We had a wonderful season this year." The team, led by Boldt and Harbin, finished the season with a record of 7 wins in eight dual meets. The only loss was to Milwaukee, five time Wisconsin state champion. The harriers finished their season by placing second to Fort Wayne North in the conference meet. Members of the team included Iddings, Harbin, Boldt, Smith, Griffith, Case, Clark, and Pelc.

SUMMARY OF THE SWIMMING SEASON

In the opening meet, Whiting was sadly vanquished by 31 points. Tom Kolle won the 40 yard sprint; time, 21.9; Chalos the 100 yard breastroke; time, 1:21.9; Dublak the 100 yard hackstroke; time 1:15.1; and Glen Labaw won the 100 yard free style in the excellent time, 59.8. Hammond also touched 1st in the 160 free style relay and in the 180 medley relay.

Three easy victories followed over Washington of East Chicago, Horace Mann, and Lew Wallace. In the last of these, the star of the opposition, Maszlak, won the 40 yard free-style while Glen Labaw of Hammond took the 100 yard free-style.

A week later Hammond mermen journeyed to Danville, home of the Illinois State Champs. By the slight margin of 4 points the "south-town" boys nosed out the "Cats."

At Terre Haute, however, the splashers won in true Hammond style by 12 points.

A return meet with Washington again showed Hammond to be far superior.

The 2nd and last loss for Hammond swimmers occured at Culver Military Academy on January 24. Seemingly for spite, our men whipped South Bend Central a week after.

The last day of January was the first date of a new relay meet instituted by Hammond. The "Cats" won a sweeping victory over Lew Wallace, Horace Mann, Whiting, and Froebel.

Happy day was the day the Purple beat Danville in a return meet at the Civic Center. To make up for the loss in the medley, Hammond "water-waltzers" beat the Illinois squad in the free style relay.

The Conference meets were held at South Bend on February 14. The Central "Bears" copped 1st with a lead of 5 points. Hammond was second with 39 points, and Lew Wallace tailed with 30 points.

For the third consecutive year Hammond captured the State Championship title at Lafayette. Lew Wallace topped Central and placed second. 18 of Hammond's points were won in the relays. The "water winners" took second in the medley and won the free style in 1:49.

As the formal close, at an auditorium session for the whole student body, Coach Staley summarized the season. Two losses, nine wins, second in the Conference, and the third consecutive State Championship.

GRAPPLERS SHARE CONFERENCE CROWN

Hammond fairly squashed the Clark "matters" in the opening meet held there. Friedrick, Granger, Waltz, Kubiak, Mote, Reed, Plant, and Holloway won their matches by forfeits, pins and decisions.

On January 8, "Cat" matmen gave a good boost to their average by smothering Washington of East Chicago 41-8. Joe Cillis, of football fame, began a highly successful season, considering his inexperience, by winning his match through a forfeit.

Wrestling Clark in a return meet, Hammond "matmen" were beaten by five points. Despite the loss, Kubiak, Mote, Reed, and Plant won their matches.

The Roosevelt "Rough Riders," Hammond's old time mat rivals, took their showers with long faces on February 3 — lengthened by an 18-14 "Cat" victory.

At South Bend for the return meet, Hammond met the "Bears" with an incomplete team, only to be vanquished.

On December 10, a preview of the Annual Wrestling Show was given in the Hammond High auditorium. Contrasts of professional and amateur wrestling were explained by Coach Staley. "Pro's," Reed and Doug Adams, were as good at "pro" grappling as any we'd seen at the Civic Center.

The Conference Meet, held at Roosevelt, was co-won by South Bend Central and Hammond. Rarick, Granger, and Merril Reed took first place in their weights. This is the third consecutive year Hammond has copped first place in the Conference.

The State meet was also held at Bloomington on February 21. Hammond entered few men because of injuries and illness. Our team's total score was 11, contributed by Joe Cillis, and Chuck Plant, who pinned his man to get 6 points. Hammond took eighth place.

In true Hammond spirit, the "Purple grapplers" positively enveloped a strong Culver team at Culver. Hatfield, Reed, Cillis, Plant, Wagman, and Nowak won their matches. Waltz and Holloway tied their men.

Season average: six wins, four losses, and the Conference Championship.

GOLFERS MAINTAINED PERFECT WIN RECORD

Hammond High golfers, coached by Jim Garrett, and paced by Andy Granack, won the LaPorte invitational golf tournament with a four man team score of 339.

SUMMARY OF THE TENNIS SEASON

With an "Even-Steven" average, Coach Staley's tennis team closed its fall-time season. "Cat" netters beat Whiting 5-0 and 5-0; and Clark 4-1 and 4-1. Lost to Washington 5-0 and 5-0; and to Emerson 5-0 and 4-1.

Team members, Kolle, Timm, Bacon, Schroeter, and Hitt, all won letters. Only Bacon returns next year.

Juanita Keith, diver, and Ruthann Salcevenski and Lila Naugle, star swimmers.

With their trophy, the champion sophomore volleyball team is seated in the front row: Durgy, Bock, Ward, Hoeppner, Greiner, Nellis, House, Post, Korchelas, and Dietrich. To Help Light Your Path to Success

Students everywhere are finding that lessons can be mastered more quickly when there's a certified I.E.S. Specification Lamp to help them with their homework. Reading's done more easily, quickly and accurately. Facts are remembered better. There's less unconscious straining to see and eyes are thus protected from unnecessary fatigue due to poor lighting.

A nationally famous professional group of lighting engineers, the Illuminating Engineering Society, drew up specifications for these lamps which are now made by many manufacturers. Look for the certification tage of approval identifying I.E.S. Lamps.

Whatever the style of your desk or study table at home, you can find an I.E.S. Lamp to suit it beautifully. There are table, floor and bridge types . . . some of the latter with a handy swing arm to adjust perfectly over a drawing board or sewing table. Ask for I.E.S. Lamps to make your seeing easier . . . and to help light your path to success.

DEDICATED TO VICTORY

". . . The true goal we seek is far above and beyond the ugly field of battle. When we resort to force, as now we must, we are determined that this force shall be directed toward ultimate good as well as against immediate evil. We Americans are not destroyers — we are builders."

President Roosevelt

Believing that, in this hour of National peril, a great responsibility rests on our educational system, toward the end that American minds be awakened to the magnitude of the task that lies ahead, we, the Service Organization, pledge our resources and abilities.
